producción, consumo y desperdicio, la Economía Circular nos propone un enfoque diferente. Aquí, el flujo constante de recursos es la norma, y los residuos se transforman en valiosa materia prima que puede reincorporarse al sistema productivo. Este enfoque genera una solución virtuosa, reduciendo nuestros desechos y disminuyendo la presión sobre los recursos naturales del planeta. La economía circular busca crear un sistema económico restaurativo y colaborativo que cambie el clima de nuestro planeta. Todo esto nos permite maximizar el uso de los recursos fabricando productos reciclables. El reciclaje de los residuos ahorra recursos y otros fines que benefician a la comunidad.
